Fire Access Stations

The American Access Systems, Inc line of FireAccess stations offers a selection of different post mount models. All models feature heavy metal, powder coated enclosures. The faceplates on model #'s 15-013 and 15-014 are painted a bright red for easy identification by the fire department. Model # 15-015 has a high grade, stainless steel faceplate with metal keypad. All FireAccess stations are stand alone units, allowing the convenience of installation wherever it may be required.

Model #'s 15-013 and 15-015 are designed to be used with a Knox Lock key switch (not included). The 15-015 FireAccess station additionally features the AdvantageDK keypad combined in the faceplate with the Knox Lock cut out, allowing convenient access by both the user and the fire department. Model #15-014 is a simple micro switch that activates a relay when the padlock holding the panel closed is removed.
